

Da'karai Caesar

Alone

The walls close in around me
As the silence fills the air
I try to shake away the loneliness
The feelings always there

I've tried to fill the void
With distractions and my work
But no matter what I do to run
The loneliness, it hurts.

A constant ache inside me
This hurt I can not shake
I try to mask it every time
It all just seems so fake

I long for a connection
A heart for two to share
But for now I am alone on earth
With pain you can't repair

Today I do hold on to hope,
Somehow I'll find my way
To a place where everyone belongs
And the loneliness fades away
